A parent called library today, asking, "Is it true that library opens for 24 hour?". Folks, remember to update your parents 😊

Wei Yuan Chua
Saw this while on exchange. This equipment looks expensive, but I urge the library to at least consider it. It could save many many more trees – and I think it's faster than photocopying!

Hi, library, recently the thomson one has some problems:

- 1) i always cannot log in because all IDs are being used? can you verify that no one is using it for 24/7?
- 2) is thomson not compatible with IE10? my internet browser cannot work...

Li Ka Shing Library@SMU aww, Qin Hao, those are tough questions because the database is a real pain... Currently we subscribe for 5 concurrent users - so yes, getting into T1.com is a huge challenge during term time. We managed to login just now, hence 9am is a good time. As for IE10, we're checking with T1.com - ehm... but the likelihood is that they may not have heard about IE10 yet...

Li Ka Shing Library@SMU Julius, Library plays the depressing Closing Time because it does what it should - chasing people out 😊 But fret not, we are thinking of auditioning SMU students for a new closing song.

Dear smugglers,

The collaborative area and quiet area at L2 will be closed between 5-6pm as there will be a battle between Pest Control and Lord of the Flies. Please stay clear of the battleground.

Dear followers,
As you can see, the cat librarians are extremely busy today. We are in the midst of solving the issues that you all highlighted:
Extra Study Space – CHECK!
Extra Project Rooms – CHECK!
De-stressing Corner – CHECK!
... See More — with Charlotte Gill and Rajendra Munoo.

to whichever organization who put the stool and table in the library lift ..

what you call some art or a joke, i call a waste of time and real estate ! your waste of space could have fit 2 extra persons in the lift and saved some time !

Measuring Engagement

Henry & Harte's Social Equivalent Advertising Value: 4 categories

- Post impression

Views of brand posts in a social medium.

- Page impression

Views of a brand owner's social platform.

- Personal action

Consumption of brand content through an action such as a click on a photo or video or a link.

- Public action

Sharing brand content socially, such as liking or commenting on content or proactively recommending content to others.

How to Engage?

1. What works for us may not work for you

➤ Experiments: keep things that are working, let go those that are not (this includes the social media platforms).

➤ It is YOUR community.

“A squirrel dying in front of your house may be more relevant to your interests right now than people dying in Africa. “ – Mark Zuckerberg

How to Engage?

1. What works for us may not work for you

➤ Frameworks

Use various communication channels appropriately.

2. Make sure you know the answer to this question:

“What’s in it for me?”

- Freebies?
- Information overload?
- Curiosity, interest, voyeurism, unexpected
- Example: Singapore Police Force

How to Engage?

3. Have a conversation with your community

- Ask, listen, reply, tell stories, say ‘thank you’, ...
- Humanize

A photograph showing a man in a Dracula costume standing behind a wooden service desk in a library. He is pointing towards the right side of the desk. A staff member wearing a black hooded mask is seated behind the desk, looking up at him. On the desk, there are two computer monitors, a small orange bucket, and a white sign that reads "Goto Li Ka Shing Library Project". In the background, there are wooden panel walls and bookshelves.

Discussion Points

- You have heard about the benefits of engaged community. What do you think is the cost of creating and retaining engagement?
- What do you think you can do to “humanize” your conversation? (Does this mean that we are not humans when we communicate with emails?)
